LIBERALS TO HOLD EARLY CONVENTION, FIX DATE TO-NIGHT

Victoria Candidate to be in Field by First of August to Open Campaign

Victoria Liberals will hold a convention before the end of this month to choose a candidate in the Federal election expected to take place about the middle of September.

The Liberal candidate will be able to open his campaign about August 1 and have six weeks or so to carry on his fight before the party convention.

About the same time as the Victoria convention conventions will be held in other ridings all over the Province to nominate candidates of both parties. Prince Rupert Liberals will convene on July 25 to choose their standard-bearer, it is announced. Fred Stork, who represented the riding in the last two Parliaments, will be re-nominated, it is expected. Rumors say that Mr. Stork would not run again on account of his health and denied by his supporters and it is understood he will be in the field again.

NATIONAL ASSET

"The beauty of Strathcona Park is not generally known to the public, and this fact is to be regretted. If we could put a candidate in the field without delay was voiced by heads of the Liberal Association. Executive to-day as they prepared for meeting to-night. To-night's meeting will arrange details of the convention.

APPEAL FAILED

The feature of the evidence was the woman's deathbed accusation of de Bortoli. In appeal against the death sentence was dismissed.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

MONTRÉAL'S MAYOR IS MADE WELCOME

Mederic Martin Here For
Two-day Visit From Eastern

"Victoria Chamber of Commerce strongly protests against action of postal authorities in today withdrawing afternoon rail-way mail car between Victoria and Nanaimo. Districts affected exporting annually $30,000,000 worth of produce. Requirements must be restored immediately for the benefit of the Island indigenously produced. This sudden unwarranted action is resented by all business interests. Inconvenience and hardships will be suffered. Please assist in securing immediate restoration of service."

NATIONAL ASSET

In fighting for Strathcona Park the Victoria Chamber of Commerce describes it as a national asset from a tourist standpoint. It would be a wonderful asset to the city if the land is properly developed and would also be a great asset to the city of Victoria—Nanaimo Island, the report says. The park is set out by the tourist group as follows:

Your committee appointed to look into the Strathcona Park development has recommended that the park be expanded and recommended that the timber licenses issued within the park be removed. We have no objection to the creation of a national park.

However, a thorough examination of the records as contained in the Registry Office and also on the records of the Department of Lands in the Parliament Buildings has been made and we submit you a statement of the same.

NATURAL BEAUTIES

The timber leases within the park referred to constitute one of the natural beauties of that district and if allowed to be cut would destroy the natural beauty of Butties Lake and remove for a large number of years one of the great attractions of the district possesses.

Therefore, we, the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, request that the timber leases be removed from the park.

Mr. Campbell said, "I am not in a position to say whether the timber leases will be removed or not, but I am sure that the timber leases will be removed.

BEAUTIFUL BEACHES

The timber leases within the park referred to constitute one of the natural beauties of that district and if allowed to be cut would destroy the natural beauty of Butties Lake and remove for a large number of years one of the great attractions of the district possesses.

Therefore, we, the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, request that the timber leases be removed from the park.

Mr. Campbell said, "I am not in a position to say whether the timber leases will be removed or not, but I am sure that the timber leases will be removed.

TELLS WHY LIBERALS WILL WIN

"How will the election go this time?" he was asked.

"The Liberals are going in again without doubt," Hon. Mr. Martin replied.

REMOVED BIG LOAD

"And now this year, besides reducing the expenses in Government department, the Government by its income tax reductions has taken $25,000,000 off the shoulders of the people. And on the first of this month the Government also restored the two-cent letter postage rate."

Hon. M. Martin explained that the Liberals would gain heavily in the West and also would gain in northern Ontario.

"What about Quebec?" he was asked.

"Oh," he replied, "Quebec will be sold sixty-four Liberals, at least, one seat in Montreal city being the only Conservative."

We know Mr. Meighen did not want to come and see us in Quebec at all last election. He has been trying to take the people of Quebec for fools with that man Patenaude. But the people of Quebec are not being taken in the little game of Mr. Meighen's is finished."

Hon. M. Martin has been mayor of Montreal for fourteen years, he has been in the city council for twenty-eight years, for seventeen years he was a member of the House of Commons and for the last seven years a member of the upper house of Quebec. For thirty-eight years he has been a member of his international trades union and still has his card in good standing.

CANADA AND GOVERNORS-GENERAL

MR. R. H. POOLEY, WHO SEEKS TO regard public criticism of a Governor-General as something unheard of, something "simply not done," will be interested in the note in the morning paper stating that the Marquis of Dufferin was subjected to criticism by politicians who objected to his attitude towards certain matters in 1873. This was the same Governor-General who when he visited Victoria a few years later and was riding in a parade along one of our streets, saw looming up ahead of him an arch bearing a legend which threatened secession from the Dominion if the terms under which British Columbia entered Confederation were not strictly observed. History records that he refused to ride under that arch, the inscription on which he regarded as an affront to his sovereign. Obviously, British Columbia was justified in demanding the complete fulfilment of the conditions on which she entered Confederation, but flaunting a threat of secession in the eyes of the representative of the monarch after whom this city was named—and a guest at that—was a drastic enough course in all conscience. At that time, however, this Province had many out-and-out secessionists and not a few annexationists, and talk about both separation and annexation was quite common.

But long before the time of the Marquis of Dufferin, Canadian public men and the Canadian press were in conflict with Governors. In fact Canada's whole progress to responsible Government and the institution of the Dominion was mainly a struggle between our parliamentary assemblies and the representatives of the sovereign, and if Mr. Pooley would dip a little into Canadian history he would be horrified at some of the things said to and about many of the eminent gentlemen who were sent to govern Canada in those turbulent times. One of the most distinguished of them, the Earl of Elgin, an able, sagacious diplomatist of charming personality, was stoned in the streets of Montreal by a mob inspired by the incendiary outpourings of the political party to which Mr. Pooley belongs, and which finally set fire to the Parliament Buildings, and caused the removal of Canada's capital to Ottawa, then known as Bytown.

In 1896 Lord Aberdeen, then Governor-General, came under the fire of Sir Charles Tupper, leader of the Conservative Party, in the House of Commons, who attacked His Excellency for refusing to sign orders-in-council making certain appointments in the interim between the Government's defeat and its retirement in favor of the Laurier Administration. If Sir Charles had been a Liberal he would have been called a disgruntled politician, but being a Conservative leader he was considered a great patriot by his party for publicly criticizing a Governor-General. His outbreak, however, was mild enough in contrast with the stoning of Lord Elgin and the burning of the Parliament Buildings by turbulent spirits of the same political party several generations before.

ANOTHER WAR DEBT "SETTLEMENT"

TO THE ACCOMPANIMENT OF A TUMBLING franc the Finance Minister of France and the Chancellor of the Exchequer of Great Britain yesterday arranged the final details of the manner in which the French treasury shall repay the British treasury what it owes. This year Britain will collect $20,000,000, with gradually increasing payments until the sixth year, when the full $60,000,000, as previously arranged, will be reached. The full payment terms are $62,500,000 for sixty-two years; but France will not be required to pay the deficiency of these five years of partial moratorium until probably twenty-five or thirty years hence.

When M. Caillaux was asked whether his trip had been a satisfactory one, he replied: "Yes, as satisfactory as possible to a man who has signed something that is not quite agreeable." There is the point. Paying bills is a popular pastime with nobody. Paying bills incurred by the expenditure of money on international slaughter is the least popular pastime. There is nothing but many forms of trouble to show for it. Yet the job of making arrangements so that such a thing as that which horrified the world between 1914 and 1918 could never happen again seems about as difficult as any task which a post-war world has tackled. One of these days, however, people will understand something of the real cost of war and make it impossible for a few to create conditions which produce it. The sooner that day comes the better.

GIVE THEM INFORMATION

NO DOUBT WITH THE BEST OF INTENTIONS the Victoria Women's Institute has suggested to the City Council that there should be signs on the principal thoroughfares and at municipal boundaries reading: "Welcome to Tourists."

Of course tourists are welcome. They appreciate the fact and confirm it every year by coming to Victoria in increasing numbers. But it must not be forgotten, however, that one of the reasons why they visit this community is because it has scenic charms and climatic attractions, to say nothing of numerous facilities for various forms of recreation, that are unsurpassed by few other places on this continent. If any signs are to be displayed, let them contain useful information that can be absorbed more or less at a glance.

GETTING ACQUAINTED

IT HAS NOT TAKEN THE NEW DIRECTORS of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway very long to get into harness. They met the Minister of Railways and Hon. Alex. Manson in Vancouver recently and made a tour of the line from one end of it to the other. Along the route they took the time to investigate various sections of the country contributory to the railroad in order to see for themselves something of future possibilities. They informed the members of the Quesnel Board of Trade that they were new to their job and not in a position to make promises or even a statement at this early date in their railroading experience.

The new officials have started their task in the right way. They are now elaborating their earlier knowledge of the road, and the public may rest assured that they will make the most practical use of what they learn. No longer will the system be regarded as a political football. And it should not be necessary for them to ask for general support for the difficult task which they have undertaken.

AN EXTRAORDINARY ARGUMENT

THIS MORNING PAPER DECLARERES that if Mr. Mackenzie King had been given a dissolution when he asked for it, the measures that had been passed by both Houses, and were merely awaiting formal signature by the Governor-General, would have met the same fate as that to which Mr. Meighen's action has consigned them.

Our contemporary is off on its facts. Mr. Mackenzie King made it quite clear in his statement to the House of Commons that the conditions upon which he had asked for a dissolution included the necessary provision for calling both Houses together for the express purpose of completing the business of the session. This means that the bills approved by the Commons and the Senate would have been assented to and the House prorogued in customary fashion. Immediately thereafter dissolution would have taken place and arrangements for the general election put in hand. Who ever heard of a Government, having been given a dissolution, leaving legislation which it had successfully piloted through all stages—legislation, by the way, upon which it had prided itself and had reason so to do—in the air? This is what the morning paper is trying to make out would have been the course of Mr. Mackenzie King if the Governor-General had granted his request.

Mr. Dunning is quite right when he charges Mr. Meighen with autocratic procedure in this respect. There was nothing whatever to prevent the Conservative leader from doing what Mr. King would have done—what he announced that he certainly intended to do. But some of the legislation awaiting the Governor-General's signature is distasteful to Mr. Meighen. Thus his hurry to dissolve had had the effect of withholding signature from measures to reduce taxation and to provide for agricultural credits, and others, in spite of the fact that they had been approved by the elected representatives of the people.

Nor does the morning paper strengthen its case by indulging in cheap jibes at the former Prime Minister of Saskatchewan because he threw in his lot with the late Government of Mr. Mackenzie King. He at least showed the courage of his convictions when he left a public realm in which he had been so singularly successful and in which he was so politically safe.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

ANOTHER MILLENIUM POSTPONED

From the Ottawa Citizen.

Provincial elections result in Alberta are rather surprising reading for people who had been led to believe that the Conservative millennium had arrived. The United Farmers are returned stronger than ever. They had more than twice as many members as all the other groups combined. Labor carried more seats than the Conservative party, or at least as many, and Labor is co-operating with the U.F.A.

The Conservative leader in Calgary, Mr. A. A. McGillivray, came through with a handsome majority. But the same can be said of the U.F.A. attorney in the poll in a city constituency, although standing quite general in Edmonton, Mr. J. F. Lymburn. To head definitely on the United Farmer platform, is a remarkable indication of public confidence in the U.F.A. administration.

Under the leadership of Mr. Joseph T. Shaw, the Liberal opposition in Alberta should gain in strength. Experience in the provincial arena should help Mr. Shaw to grow in stature politically. He has something to contribute to Canadian public life.

With Dr. R. B. Bennett heralding the dawn of the new era for Toryism, and the party papers making it so plain that Conservative statesmen were superior to all others in wisdom, social virtues, the failure of the game to rise to the standard of chivalry is most surprising. Alberta must continue to make the best of it with an administration which makes no claim to superhuman qualities, but is honest, economical and forward-looking.

Since this is Alberta's twenty-first anniversary, it might be in order to wish the U.F.A. government many happy returns, and to congratulate Premier Brownlee.

W. BONNIN TO BE TRIED IN WINNIPEG

To Face Jury on Charge of Having Murdered M. Garvie, Bank Clerk

Winnipeg, July 13.—Wilfred Bonnin, alias Davis, charged with having murdered Maurice Garvie, bank clerk, in the sensational hold-up of the Logan Avenue branch of the Royal Bank of Canada here May 28 last, was committed for trial at the conclusion of the preliminary hearing in police court yesterday.

Bonnin attended the session of the court in a wheel chair, as he is still in a recuperative stage following wounds received in the battle with police and detectives which preceded his capture two hours after the robbery. He'll be tried on a charge of murder at the Fall session of the assize court.

Except for an insistent demand that a lawyer be provided to defend him, Bonnin displayed little interest in the proceedings.

A mass of evidence was put into the court record by the prosecution. Officers of the bank identified Bonnin as the man who had staged the robbery and shot down Garvie. Other testimony detailed in detail of his actions following the hold-up, including an attempt to escape by taxi and his subsequent hiding in the house of Robert Segal, where he was captured after a gun battle. Segal testified that Bonnin had fired pointed at him, inflicting a wound in his chest when detectives appeared before the House.

After the preliminary hearing Bonnin was taken back to the hospital, where he is constantly under guard.

CABINET MINISTERS' PRACTICES CHANGE

Officials in Britain Directors in Companies Having Business With Government

London, July 13.—The House of Commons by a large majority last night declined to take any steps, as urged by the Labor members, to clear up the anomalous position of cabinet ministers holding directorships in companies having contractual relations with the Government.

Arthur Henderson, who was Secretary for Home Affairs in the MacDonald Labor Government, moved the appointment of a select committee to consider to what extent cabinet ministers might be associated with public or private companies, any company which has "in contractual relations with the Government."

In former times the unwritten law that a minister on accepting office should resign such directorships observed, but, if of late years with increasing access of business men to public life and Parliament, the rule has been somewhat relaxed.

Mr. Henderson instanced the case of Neville Chamberlain, Minister of Health, who had admitted with a director of a Birmingham firm which had received several contracts. It was not charged Mr. Chamberlain was corrupt, but it was suggested this would be a good test on a matter of principle.

The Government, in opposing the Labor motion, declined to yield to what it called a campaign of calumny.

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

WAKEFULNESS

Mrs. W.T.A. Eldred is a schedules for the six-month-old baby fed on a four-hour interval.

Six o'clock—Bottle or nursing, sleep until eight.

Nine-thirty—Orange juice and attention bottle.

Ten o'clock—Nursing or bottle before going to sleep. This sleep should last until at least one o'clock.

Two o'clock—Strained vegetable soup; zweiball and nursing or bottle.

About three to four or a little later the baby will take his afternoon nap and then be awake until time for bed at six o'clock.

Naturally such a schedule will vary if the child refuses to sleep long after his bath. My babies do this quite as a matter of course. If he wakes up during the three hours are up, I should put him in his car and take a short walk with him in the open air. I believe he will fall asleep again and you can thus abolish the habit of a long nap. Perhaps turning him over and giving a drink of water will do the same.

PLAN RECEPTION TO BRITISH PRELATE

Cathedral Women Arrange Hospitality For Delegates to Stone-laying

Plans for the entertainment of the many delegates from up-island parishes who are expected to attend the laying of the foundation stone of the new cathedral were made yesterday at a meeting of the women's committee held in the Memorial Hall yesterday afternoon. Mrs. C. de V. Schofield presided and reported that the committee had been enlarged to include representatives of parishes and the Diocese of Victoria. J. T. Dickson, convener of the hospitality committee, was asked to secure before August 9 a list of hostesses who will offer accommodation for the visiting delegates. Mrs. W. A. Gallaher will be in charge of arrangements for the reception of the Bishop of London after the ceremonies on September 9. The reception will be held in Fishers Close grounds or, if the weather is unfavorable, in the Memorial Hall gymnasium.

Plans were discussed for serving midday luncheons in the Memorial Hall during the week of the canvass for funds for the new cathedral. This was suggested as a means of permitting the chairmen, captains and canvassers from the various parishes to visit the results of their efforts.

Miss H. Wilson urged that provision be made for the distribution of "cathedral boxes," and a committee consisting of Mrs. Laycock, Mrs. Hartley, Miss Agnew, Miss Dunsmuir and Miss Sayward was appointed to consider this matter.

The Rev. and Mrs. J. Wesley Millar of Vancouver, who were in Victoria for the Mitchell-Patrick wedding and who have been the guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Patrick, Michigan Street, have returned to their home on the mainland.

Mrs. G. A. Ligertwood, Gorge Road, accompanied by the Misses Ligertwood and Mary Ligertwood and Doris Jones, left this afternoon by motor for Anacortes en route to visit with friends in Texas.

Commander A. G. Dibrell of the U.S.S. Melvin, which is stationed for a month at Port Angeles, left for Port Angeles yesterday after spending a week in Victoria as the guest of his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Cameron, Gorge Road.

The Rev. and Mrs. J. Wesley Millar of Vancouver, who were in Victoria for the Mitchell-Patrick wedding and who have been the guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Patrick, Michigan Street, have returned to their home on the mainland.

Mrs. G. A. Strickland and small daughter, Verily of Bellingham, who came over to attend the Mitchell-Patrick wedding of last week and who have been the guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Patrick, Michigan Street, left today for their home in Bellingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Patrick and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Patrick who were also over for the wedding have returned to their respective homes in Vancouver, and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Patrick have returned to Seattle.

Mrs. J. A. Rithet entertained at a combined bridge and mah jong party yesterday afternoon at her home on Rockland Avenue, while at the ten hour additional guests were present.

Among those invited were Mrs. Barbary, Mrs. M. Ross, Mrs. Archer Martin, Mrs. J. M. Hedley, Mrs. E. Crook Baker, Mrs. Hunter Ogilvie of Toronto, Mrs. Waugh of Toronto, Mrs. H. A. Ross, Mrs. Whyte-Frasier, Mrs. J. O. Graham, Mrs. C. C. Bennett, Mrs. J. R. Totten, Mrs. Newell, Mrs. Percy Sayward, Mrs. Norman Payne, Mrs. A. T. Goward, Mrs. Cator, Mrs. C. F. Todd, Mrs. W. J. Bowser, Mrs. Alexis Martin, Mrs. Herbert Wilson, Mrs. J. A. Stewart, Miss Henderson of Perth, Mrs. L. A. Genge, Mrs. Alex Norman Williamson (Montreal), Mrs. H. M. McGivern, Mrs. Carew Martin, Miss Dola Dunsmuir, Miss Innes Bodwell, Miss Peggy McBride and Miss Tina Mowbray.

When buying tinned fruit, press the bottom of the tin with the thumb. If it makes a noise like a machine, the can is not airtight and the contents are unfit for use.

If you sprinkle a cannet with salt before beginning to brush it, the dust will not rise. Incidentally, the salt will improve the appearance of the glass.

Mirrors and picture glasses should be cleaned with a pad of tissue paper sprinkled with methylated spirit.

Always mix starch with soapy water. This will prevent the iron sticking and will give the linen a better gloss.

When boiling a pudding the basin in which it is cooked must be full or the water will get in and the pudding be spoiled.

Run a line of machine stitching round the tops of new stockings, just below where the suspenders fasten. This will prevent ladders.

A piece of charcoal placed in the sauceman in which cabbage is boiled will prevent any disagreeable smell arising during the cooking of the vegetable.

Paraffin rubbed on woodwork with a soft cloth will quickly remove all dust and dirt.

A stained coat collar can be cleaned by spongeing with a cloth moistened with ammonia or vinegar.

There is no better way of cleaning tanned oak furniture than by washing it with hot water in which a little borax has been dissolved. Dry thoroughly and rub with a cloth moistened with linseed oil.

To prevent cakes from becoming stale, put a thick slice of bread in the tin in which they are kept and renew it every third day.

When cleaning knives mix a pinch of bicarbonate of soda with the bath-brick and they will polish more easily.

If the blue bag is twirled round the water in which glasses are to be washed they will sparkle when dried and polished.

To prevent a ladder in a stocking take a piece of damp soap and rub it on the place where the silk thread has broken.

To remove coffee and tea stains from white flannel and all sorts of woolen materials, apply a mixture of yolk of egg and glycerine. This may afterwards be washed out with warm water.

The smell of onions, fish or cabbage is quickly removed from pans by the addition of a little vinegar to the water in which they are washed.

When baking small cakes or buns flour the tins instead of greasing them. The cakes will not stick to the tins and will bake quite as well.

To remove scratches from varnish apply a coarse cloth well saturated with linseed oil.

A rich dark stain for floors can be made by mixing four ounces of permanent potash with a pint of water. The brushes should be soaked in water before being used.

Only half the quantity of sugar will be required to sweeten stewed fruit if it is added after cooking, and not during the process.

A pinch of salt added to very sour fruits, while cooking, will reduce the quantity of sugar needed to sweeten them.

TO WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Mrs. Wilson's Experience
Guide to Women Passing through the Change of Life

Hamilton, Ontario.—"I have taken several bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I cannot speak too highly of it as I was at the change of life and was all run-down and had no appetite.

I was very weak and sick, and the pains in my back were so bad I could hardly move.

I got very sad at times and thought I had not a friend on earth. I did not care if I lived or died. I was very nervous, too, and did not go out very much. A friend advised me to try a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I did. I am a farmer's wife, and always worked hard until lately, and was sick for two months. I began to feel like a new woman after the first bottle and I recovered it with great success, also Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pill. I am willing to answer letters from women asking about your medicines, as I cannot speak too highly of them."—Mrs. EMMA WILSON, 471 Wilson Street, Hamilton, Ontario.

Special to The Times

Metchosin, July 13.—The annual ratepayers' meeting in connection with the Metchosin School was held on Saturday night last in the school house. There was a very good attendance of residents, numbering about sixty. H. G. Pierce was elected to the chair.

The result of the year's work, as read by the secretary, Mrs. G. F. Weir, showed that the progress made by the pupils during the year was very satisfactory, several having made more than two grades in one year. The pupils had taken part in two exhibitions of educational value during the year, having been taken to see the film showing R.H.R. the Prince of Wales on his travels, and also taking part in the spelling contest at Colwood. Three pupils had written their entrance examination. It was also announced that the finance, which had been long out of proper commission was now in order.

The auditor's report showed that accounts were correct and in order. The inspector's report showed that the tone of the school was good, control and conduct of school children satisfactory.

Special to The Times

The report of the medical inspector showed that the health of the children was very satisfactory, that the surroundings were healthy and that the sanitary conditions of the school were very good.

The treasurer having reported that repairs to the exterior of the school were urgently needed, the meeting authorized the expenditure for the necessary repairs to be taken out of the accrued interest.

This being the expiration of Trustee, Mr. Weir, the trustees of the office nominations were called for. Mrs. Weir was nominated by H. Helgesen and Dr. Gaddes was nominated by F. A. Pearce. The result of the ballot was announced and Dr. Gaddes was declared elected with thirty-three balloted for him and against twenty-eight for Mrs. Weir. The board of trustees now stands: J. W. Milne, Wm. Arden and Dr. Gaddes. H. G. Pierce was elected auditor for the coming year.

H. Gentis moved that provision be made in the budget for the service of a school nurse, suggesting that the motion was carried that having considered a nurse was a necessity in a rural district. The motion was seconded by Mrs. A. Hall, Mrs. T. Barlow also speaking in favor of the motion, which was defeated, however, on the vote being taken.

SCHOOL TAXATION

The following resolution was then moved by H. Helgesen and seconded by H. Chambers:

Whereas, in rural districts school taxation is based upon real property, and

Whereas, the school survey commissioners, in their report, recommended a minimum rate of 5 mills for rural districts, and the present rate applicable to this district is 2.4 mills (1925), and

Whereas, the commissioners' recommendation (if adopted) would have the effect of more than doubling the present rate of taxation, and

Whereas, the commissioners further recommend the imposition of an income tax of 1 per cent. upon all incomes, and,

Whereas, the delegates from this district represented to the commissioners that they were seeking relief from necessary school taxation but from inequitable taxation, and

Whereas, the present qualification for voters at rural school meetings permits any property, small or large, an unlimited number of voters (husbands and wives) whereby a small holder for a group of small holders to vote heavy taxation upon a large holder without in any way affecting themselves.

Be it therefore resolved, that this meeting of ratifyers, duly assembled, in annual school meeting, the B.C. School Trustees Association

EARL OF DUNRAVEN MADE SELF KNOWN AS VERSATILE PEER

Adventure, Politics, Soldierly, the Stage, All Embraced in Notable Career

Reuter's Special to The Victoria Times

London, July 13.—Few men are had a more varied career than that of the Earl of Dunraven who died this week at the age of eight-five.

He had been a soldier, steeplechase rider, big game hunter, life-long yachtsman, and a statesman, but also found time to serve as Under Secretary of State for the Colonies. As a young officer in the Guards, he was a well-known figure about town, and his love of sport was expressed in many ways, notably in two gallant attempts to life the American cup. He was to have joined Thomas Lipton next year in a further challenge.

As a war correspondent he went first to Abyssinia, and later acted throughout the Franco-Prussian War, and when over sixty he enlisted in the Yeomanry for service in South Africa.

In politics his chief interest was always in his native Ireland, but he was a diligent member of the House of Lords and did good work on the London County Council.

Lord Dunraven was a man of lofty character, and of independent mind. Many think that had he been more amenable to party discipline he would have held very high office.

When he retired from the Government he caused a stir in the Irish Free State by advocating devolution.

While on the L. C. C. he proved a staunch friend of the working classes and with him housing was a matter of first importance in all efforts at social reform.

Lord Dunraven traveled widely, but especially in Canada and the United States, where he hunted with the great Buffalo Bill. He was also very fond of the turf, particularly in the breeding of racehorses, although it is a long time since his colors were seen on a race course, in partnership with the late Lord Randolph Churchill he owned many thoroughbreds, of which the greatest was Desmond, the sire of Craymore, a disqualified Derby winner of 1913, and one who ran second and was awarded the race.

Lord Dunraven's range of interests embraced the drama and philharmonic matters, and as Viscount Adare his name gave point to one of the handsomest mottoes of H. J. Kyd, author of "Our Man in the Castle," the author of the play was about to be produced in which Viscount Adare was known to be deeply interested financially. One of the producers was mentioned in the project with Byron, and mentioned in the play had been difficulty in finding a suitable name for the play. He asked for a suggestion. "Why not call it 'Robbin' Adare? answered Byron.

U.S.S. Seattle Receives Great Welcome at City She Was Named After

Seattle, July 13.—Bearing Admiral S. S. Robison, who in October will assume command of Puget Sound Navy Yard, the cruiser Seattle, flagship of the United States fleet, dropped anchor in Seattle at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Official greeting from the city that gave her name to the flagship were carried aboard by the fleet reception committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

In the absence of Mayor Lanier, who is in Portland, Lieut.-Col. Paul Edwards, port warden, represented city authorities in ensuring the officers and crew of the Seattle that they were in their "home port" again after two years' absence.

When Mrs. Lanier returns Admiral Robison, commander of the United States fleet, and his official staff will journey to the City Hall to pay their respects to the woman executive.

The cruiser will remain in Elliott Bay for fifteen days, and then will spend short periods in Tacoma and Victoria, B.C., before going to Port Angeles and sailing south in August, at the same time the battle fleet leaves.

Admiral Robison hopes, he said yesterday, to receive his former Annapolis classmate, Secretary of the Navy Curtis D. Wilbur, aboard the Seattle, in Puget Sound.

Robison and Wilbur—the same day entered the naval academy at the same time and graduated together. Wilbur became Secretary of the Navy while Robison was in command of the battle fleet.

OBITUARY

The death occurred on July 11 at Ganges, Salt Spring Island, at the age of sixty-seven years, of John Page. He had lived on the island for a considerable time, and was born in England. The casket was forwarded by Hayward's B.C. Funeral Company yesterday, and further particulars will be given later.

The death occurred Sunday afternoon at the St. Joseph's Hospital of Theodora Kondrasoff, aged fourteen years, a native of Russia. He is survived by his parents. The remains are resting at the Pauline Funeral Home, 1625 Quadra Street, from whence the funeral will take place on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, after which the remains will be laid to rest in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

Funeral service was held at the Thomson Funeral Home, 1625 Quadra Street, yesterday at 2.30 o'clock; for the late Robert McIntosh Bennett, who passed away at the Royal Jubilee Hospital on Thursday afternoon.

The Rev. John C. Goodfellow, associate pastor of the First United Church, conducted an impressive service, during which the hymn sung was "Abide With Me." There were many friends present, and the casket was covered with a profusion of beautiful floral designs. John Fullerton, H. E. Sopher, J. Webster, A. R. Anderson, James Watt and R. Haynes acted as pallbearers. The remains were laid to rest in the family plot at Ganges Bay Cemetery.

Funeral services were held this morning over the remains of Thomas Archibald McDowell. The general cortège left the family residence, 2107 Quadra Street, at 9.15, proceeding to St. Andrew's Cathedral, where Mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Deesley, who also conducted the services in the church and at the graveside. Many friends were present and the casket was covered with the beautiful flowers. Members of the Ironworkers and Boilermakers Union attended in a body. The pallbearers were Messrs. J. Cathcart, W. Mulcahy, J. Hannan, A. McKinnon, J. Barry and D. Russell. Interment was made at Ross Bay cemetery.

The Legal Improvement Commissioners, to whom the City Council has referred the question of local improvement levies in connection with a portion of the Gorge Road, are Messrs. James Forman, A. R. Wolfenden and Hon. F. A. MacLean. In absence of the Agent-General, whose office kept him in residence in London, England, the majority members of the board will probably consider the case here and send their findings to Mr. Pauline for signature. The charges complained of are in relation to road frontage on Gorge Road at the new C.N.R. bridge crossing.

A large plate glass window in Pemberton & Sons' office, Fort Street, was completely demolished early this morning, while a man driving a horse and wagon for the Victoria Scavenging Company, backed the conveyance across the sidewalk and into the glass. The damage done is considerable. At the time of the accident it was the intention of the company to move its office before left on the sidewalk. Backing down the street his wagon jumped the four-inch curb, skidded across the sidewalk and crashed with great force into the window. The accident happened about 5.15 o'clock.

Members of the Ivanhoe pageant company are requested to call at the pageant office, 314 Pemberton Building, at the earliest possible moment to take their rehearsal lists. The following need not call: Knights, Saracens, Welsh Guards, Brydone's dancers, Mrs. Ruddock's dancers, Miss Spencer's dancers, maypole dancers, Y.M.C.A. contingent. Twenty uniforms are to be made, and the uniforms are asked to come to room 4 of Pemberton Building or telephone 1360. All members of cast who have been telephoned are requested to call for their costumes.

Sir Francis Agleen, chief of the customs at Peking and the successor of the late Sir Robert Hart, arrived yesterday en route to the Orient. He left Vancouver last night en route to London, England.

Sir Francis, who is recognized as a great authority on Chinese affairs, told the newspapers that his official position prevented him from talking for publication on the political situation in the Orient. He seemed, however, fairly optimistic with regard to the economic condition of the country, although he stated that a man who said that China was in great improvement lately in its trade conditions.

Sir Francis, who is the warmest champion of Lord Willingdon's exceptional work on the commission and stressed the point that the first report of its work was made after the sittings had been in progress a bare three and a half months.

"The commissioners of this port," said the white-haired statesman, "had tremendous energy in getting out such a comprehensive report in so short a time. Canada is indeed fortunate in having His Lordship as Governor-General."

NORTH IS SOLIDLY LIBERAL, PATTULLO DISCOVERED ON TRIP

Will Send Liberal to Ottawa Again Minister Predicts; Finds Country Prosperous

Northern British Columbia is solidly Liberal both federally and provincially, Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, declared to-day on his return here after a month's tour of the North on departmental business.

"Skeena will return a Liberal again to the House of Commons," said Mr. Pattullo. "There appears to be no chance for a Conservative in that country."

Having traveled from the coast to Prince George, the northern part of the Cariboo riding, Mr. Pattullo said he was satisfied that Liberals will recapture Cariboo, which was lost to the Conservative Party in the federal poll last Fall. A split among Liberals of Cariboo was held responsible for this defeat. Nothing of the kind will occur in the coming poll, the minister predicted.

"The Liberal Party is the party which helps to put the North on its feet, and the people there realize it," Mr. Pattullo declared.

The minister returned more enthusiastic than ever over the development of the country, particularly the mineral wealth of Prince George, and the miners there are beginning now to enjoy the fruits of their labors, he said. "Men who went in there a few years ago and made farms for themselves are making money now."

There is a marked activity. Two sawmills are operating there now and new canneries have been opened."

RACE TRACK BETS LEAPING AHEAD AS SEASON ADVANCES

Brighouse Wagers Fifty Per Cent Higher Than in 1925, New Figures Show

Also Reveal Substantial Gain on Totals For First Days of Racing This Season

Early estimates of British Columbia's total expenditure on race track bets this year are likely to be exceeded in large measure, according to figures issued by the Taxation Department here-to-day. These reveal a large gain in bets at the newly-opened Brighouse meet in Vancouver as compared with the figures at the Lansdowne Park meet previously.

Bets at Brighouse on Saturday totaled $124,624 as compared with $84,377 bet on a corresponding day last year, or an increase of fifty per cent.

ADVANCE THIS YEAR

The Brighouse bets also showed a substantial advance over the Saturday total at Lansdowne this year, when $120,167 was wagered.

The figures, of course, take no account of the very large amounts of money bet privately through bookmakers and not on the track. Much money bet in this way in Victoria is not reflected in the official figures.

Callum Beaten

Marjorie Leeming Wins;
Proctor, With His New
Doubles Partner, Victor

Vancouver, July 13—Play in the Mainland of B.C. tennis championships started on the courts of the Vancouver Club on Monday, and though the day was oppressively hot—it was the warmest day of the year—eighty-five matches were concluded, bringing the men's singles down to the 32s. Favorites in all of the events, with one possible exception advanced.

Marsh Gordon of Victoria accented for Jack Muir of Vancouver in the morning in straight sets, but in the afternoon went down before Gordon Shields of Vancouver, 6-3 and 6-2. Eric McCallum of Victoria was also knocked out of the singles by R. Hooge of Seattle, while John Proctor, Victoria's first stringer, was eliminated in the semi-final, save him in the doubles matches.

Wally Bates, ranking star of California, met little opposition, while Leroy Rennie and Gilbert Nunn of Toronto ran out their matches in straight sets. Rennie beating Dr. Dunsworth of Edmonton, the Alberta champion.

Miss Seager of Montreal, Quebec champion, and Miss Marjorie Leeming, Victoria, twice Canadian champion, each made one appearance, winning easily.

LOCAL PAIR WIN

Gordon and McCallum, former B.C. doubles champions, were pitted against Sir Smith of Tacoma and Bob Peers. The Islanders won handily, due chiefly to the wildness of the losing pair.

Peers and Proctor won their match with Stevenson and Martin, two of the younger in senior competitions, belonging to the Point Grey Club. In the last-named forced the issue to 7-6 in the opening set, the second going to 6-4.

Miss Seager of Montreal and Miss Tatton of Vancouver won their match with the Misses Straus of Jericho, in straight sets in the ladies' doubles. Jack Reddick Here On Visit But May Decide To Stay

Former Middleweight Champ and One of the Best Likes Look of Victoria

Jack Reddick, one of the best middleweight boxers ever developed in Canada, is now in this city on a visit and looking over things with a view to staying here.

Although only twenty-three years of age Reddick has been up against some of the top-notchers in the ring. He came within an ace of putting Harry Greb away when he fought the middleweight champion of the world and he fought Paul Berntzenbach, present heavy-weight champion, and all but won that fight.

Reddick, while John Price, a boxer from Victoria, twice Canadian champion, each made one appearance, winning easily.

LIKES THE TOWN

Reddick is still young, and while he has retired from the ring there is a possibility that he may come back. Reddick is a clean liver and saved most of the money he cleared up in the ring. The bouts he had after that injury did not do him justice, and he decided to put up his ring stakes and quit. He is a healthy-looking boy now, and may pull on the mittens again and see if he cannot climb to the top rung.

Chambers' Pitching Has Eagles Fooled; Sons Easy Winners

Five Scattered Hits Is Eagles Best and Sons Win Crucial Encounter 8-1

Game Marks Two-thirds of Schedule; Tight Pennant Race Expected

BALL LEAGUE STANDING

	W.	L.	P.
Sons of Canada	8	4	.667
Travelers	7	5	.583
Eagles	3	9	.250

Percy Chambers' deceptive mixture of a fast submarine delivery and a good overhand curve ball was away beyond the reckoning of the Eagles last night at the Royal Athletic Park and only five widely scattered hits were gained off his twirling.

Reddick touched two Eagles' pitchers for ten hits and eight runs to win by the comfortable score of 8-1. The game was played only eight innnings were completed before darkness interrupted the play.

Chambers has been a card hidden up the sleeve of the Sons' management but he certainly proved a trump when played. He handled his league ball all the better, and while walking ball two, and allowing only one hit, he whitewashed ten batters.

The only run scored by the Eagles during the game was made in the fourth inning when Tommy Wachter got a home run on a single. He did not get up before they counted him, and the next Jack Curtis tried to take a shoestring catch on Tom's Texas League fly and missed it.

Wachter didn't stop to see where the ball went, but ran round the bases like a frightened rabbit, getting home before the ball.

WILL BE TIGHT RACE

Last night's game marked the ending of two-thirds of the schedule. At this stage the race for honors appears extremely close, only one game separating the two leading teams. From now on it will be a determined fight between these two squads for the final laurels.

The "A" squad will also finish play in the first half. The game will commence at 6:30 o'clock with Corporal Redgrave as umpire.

Equalmalt has one game lead on the "Y" in the league standing, and a win-to-night means the championship of the first half for them. Should the "Y" take the lead to-night, the two squads will be tied at the head of the league, necessitating a play-off.

Moore and Bishop will do the pitching, the former for the Y.M.C.A., and the latter for the dockers.

HALL DEPARTS

Walter Hall, who took the hilllock position for the Eagles last night, had his usual difficulty in locating the plate. During the four and one-third innnings, in which he stayed, he issued five free passes and permitted the Sons to hit safely eight times.

Wachter three and filled the bags in the second innning, but by striking out Chambers managed to save the situation.

In the fifth, however, three singles in succession the bags chased him to the showers.

Kerr took his place and although he let one runner get home the bacon was saved when Tommy Wachter made a beautiful running catch of More's fly to centre. Two runs were scored in this frame.

With the three tallied made by the Sons in the first half when three singles, a walk and an error did some damage—and with two runs scored by Cuppage's home run over the scoreboard in the fourth, the total was seven.

The first man up in the sixth, Cuppage again, laid out a triple to centre and came home on a pass ball, scoring the winning run.

The Eagles looked dangerous a couple of times, getting two men on bases in both the third and sixth innnings.

Chambers' masterly pitching and the runners got no hits. A trick of Chambers seems to be putting three balls in a batter and then striking him out. He did this three times during the game.

CUPPAGE GOOD

Toddy Cuppage again ran away with the batting ribbons. A double would have given Cuppage the gamut of the batting range. He had a single, a triple and a home run in his bag besides a walk. He also accepted some sparring fielding chores although he made a rather lousy hit in the third, on Harry Gandy's grounder, receiving an error.

McGinnis was the only other Sons' batter to get more than one hit, acquiring two singles in two innnings.

George and Kerr had one hit apiece, while the others had none.

The box score follows:

FEW FIELDS LEFT FOR HIM TO CONQUER

When Harry Vardon first saw Bobby Jones play, seven years ago, he made the statement that Jones—was the finest stylist in the world, and would become the greatest golfer in the universe. Vardon's prediction has come true this year Jones has shown form which surpasses anything golfdom has ever known. He went to England two months ago with the U.S. amateur championship in his bag. He set the folks talking with a record of 124 in the 36 holes qualifying round for the British open championship. He followed on by winning the title. On top of all this he rushed back to America in time to enter the U.S. open championship and won it as well. This gives him three of the four major golf championships. He failed to gain the British amateur title, which passed into the hands of Jesse Sweetser, of New York.

Jones is an amateur and of course his victories have a greater appeal to the public. He has proved himself a better player than all the professionals and not long ago he refused an offer of $100,000 to turn pro. Right now he could make a great clean-up if he wished to change over to the professional ranks, but Jones has money and there is little likelihood that he will switch. Jones can now play in amateur as well as professional tournaments, and as a result gets twice as much tournament play, which makes for champions.

One account of Jones' great fight to win the U.S. open is as follows:

Starting the final nine there was another player four strokes ahead a lead that seemed insurmountable, for a 35 going home was necessary to win. Bobby knew what he had to do and for the first time made known to the golfing world, that he had the right to have the dogleg on the 18th hole of the seemingly dead man to give battle.

"There came the last hole, a par-five. Par would tie, a birdie would win. A terrific belt of 300 yards came from the Jones driver. With the three tallies made by the Sons in the first half when three singles, a walk and an error did some damage, and with two runs scored by Cuppage's home run over the scoreboard in the fourth, the total was seven.

The Sons' looked dangerous a couple of times, getting two men on bases in both the third and sixth innnings.

Chambers' masterly pitching and the runners got no hits. A trick of Chambers seems to be putting three balls in a batter and then striking him out. He did this three times during the game.

CUPPAGE GOOD

Toddy Cuppage again ran away with the batting ribbons. A double would have given Cuppage the gamut of the batting range. He had a single, a triple and a home run in his bag besides a walk. He also accepted some sparring fielding chores although he made a rather lousy hit in the third, on Harry Gandy's grounder, receiving an error.

RUSSIAN REFUGEES IN MANY BIG SCENES OF "VOLGA BOATMAN"

The axioms pertaining to the super-lative illness of a wind that blows nobody good might have been laid down by the people in mind that is responsible for the erstwhile nobility of Russia rubbing elbows with "five-a-day" extras in Hollywood. For the tornado of Bolshevism upset the aristocratic applecart in less than a short time, and scattered titled Russians all over the face of the globe, installed new rulers, confiscated property, and exiled the members of the educated, wealthy class who were fortunate enough to survive.

Left to mix metaphors, here's the silver lining to the ill wind—the misfortunes of the Czar's nobility have become a real boon to the movies. Directors can now obtain genuine dukes, counts and princes, who are in good health and costume, and dyed-in-the-wool blue-blonds from one of the oldest nobilities in the world to give that much-sought aristocratic flavor of the Old World in motion picture productions.

Cecil B. De Mille is especially fortunate. Not only does his latest production, "The Volga Boatman," which

UNUSUAL HONOR FOR JACK MULHALL, STAR IN PLAYHOUSE FILM

Word has just been received from Colonel Zack Mulhall, famous Oklahoma rancher and showman, that he has named one of the fleetest polo ponies of his string in honor of Jack Mulhall, the well-known First National film star.

Two years ago, Jack starred in a "Western" production, which was filmed in Oklahoma and around the famous Miller's 101 ranch near Ponca City. It seems that the star became extremely popular with the ranchers in that section by virtue of the rambunctious nature of his good fellowship.

This admiration was expressed in the selection of the genial actor for the post of honor in leading the parade in the opening performance of the 101 Wild West Show last season.

Jack Mulhall has just completed his latest picture role in "Sweet Daddies," M. C. Levee's new comedy for First National release. The picture is being shown all this week at the Playhouse Theatre.

He has received copies of it from all quarters of the globe. Besides circulating beyond the 3,000,000 mark as sheet music, "Marchetta" has been made into sixty-one records by fourteen

DELIGHTFUL COMEDY WITH HEART APPEAL BY COLISEUM CASTE

"Turn to the Right" at the Coliseum is all that is claimed for it—a delightful comedy with a big heart appeal. The story is of a dear old lady who, by the exercise of a sweet example, wins the heart of her son and converts two confirmed crooks whom she gets going to church and singing hymns. But there is plenty of comedy and lots to laugh at right through. The old lady's belief in the power of the church, which is accidentally a pillar of the church—and the reformation of the son and his crook friends happens just in time to prevent the business failure of the old lady, a village rube unexpectedly saving the fortunes of the whole outfit by a remarkable business deal.

"SAY IT AGAIN" AT CAPITOL THEATRE IS FILLED WITH LAUGHS

Richard Dix wins high honors in his latest Paramount comedy, "Say It Again," which opened at the Capitol Theatre yesterday to a highly enthusiastic audience.

The very idea of the story, written by Luther Reed and Ray Harris, gives one a big laugh. Our American hero, romantically looking for the nurse who took care of him at a wretched time, comes out from the Balkan kingdom in which he lives.

On the way over, Conklin, long lost Prince of Spesozia, bursts into his cabin. It is explained—she had a delectess shopkeeper had him taken to the castle of the king and asked to take his rightful place. All of which he was perfectly willing to do—but he discovered the fates met by his predecessors in the "King of Business." They all came to a sorry death, at the hands of revolutionists.

Dix and "Gunboat" Smith offer to help. A triumphant entrance is made into the capital city with the two Americans seated on either side of Conklin. All are dressed in the royal costumes of the country. Therefore, when the real prince, on catching sight of an anarchist, jumps out of the carriage, nothing is thought of it. And—Richard is greeted as hero!

Then the fun begins. Dix can't speak any English. He tries to protest but all to no avail. This period ends when he is forced to marry the princess. He doesn't object on discovering her to be his lady of love.

MOVIE-ANA

Hollywood, July 13.—That the volatile John Wayne, Dix's co-star, has been cast in the title rôle of "Ivanhoe," the new historical pageant, has been announced by the studio.

Dancer, His Favorite Horse, Will Carry Him; Big Reception Planned on Arrival

Ivanhoe, the main figure in the historical pageant, "Ivanhoe," which will be staged at the Arena on July 28, 29, 30 and 31, will ride from the north of Vancouver Island and be here for a reception on Saturday evening, July 26, at the Hotel Vancouver, where he has been living near Forbes Landing since his appearance last year, will ride his favorite horse, Dancer, over the Island Highway.

The Gym Club, who are sponsoring the pageant, offered to bring Ivanhoe, his favorite horse, Dancer, over the Island Highway.

Ivanhoe, however, wanted to travel as they did in the days of old, and he will make the 190-mile journey on the saddle.

RIDE TWENTY MILES A DAY

Ivanhoe expects to make about twenty miles a day, and this will bring him here in time for the reception—the Gyros are planning to have a luncheon in his honor each day. Ivanhoe intends to leave Forbes Landing some time tomorrow. He will rest on Sunday as not to tire the Dancer too much.

Dancer is one of the finest horses on the Island, and he has won considerable money more than twenty-five thousand dollars in contests.

The gate man, who knows his onions and feels his oats, as one might say, brought the visitors up sharp with a stentorian, "Hey, you roughnecks, keep off that grass!"

The exhibitors not only directed the head of the organization had to race after them for miles with a profuse apology to prevent their blackballing the company's pictures. Gatemen will be gatemen.

The nostalgia prompts him to send for men and properties he has used in Hollywood. His most recent importations were a hunchback he used in "Prisoner of Zenda," and a stone image of Buddha he had used in "Hearts are Trumps," five years ago.

For the Buddha, which he spent considerable time and money tracting, he paid $300. The hunchback spell luck for the mystical Indian gram. And, incidentally, he never makes a picture without having a dwarf or a twisted man as propitiatory gods of chance.

Mickey Neilan, hardboiled director and scientist, allied wit of Hollywood, displays his tenderness of heart most whimsically.

Recently he saved a life in jeopardy in the swimming pool in his studio. There at his feet quivered and sprawled the unfortunate creature.

Nelian was heard to mutter a pitiful plan as he extended a helping hand—"We do not even get out by your legs thrashing the air, you poor son-of-a-gun!" The rescued critter was a beetle.

Nelian's soul takes wings under the influence of music, soaring merrily. He has an organ in his office, and almost every eve when the shooting is finished, Mickey tickles the ivories to the vast appreciation of his technical staff. Mostly Irish tunes, he is the composer of "Wonderful One."

THESE WOMEN

By MALCOLM DUART

The names and situations in this story are fictitious.

"Daddy," why did you have Nona come?"

"You've probably guessed by this time," he told her. "I wanted you to get disgusted with me as a candidate for husband."

"Oh," she was silent, with a finger to her lips.

"He went out, I really counted on you about seeing me, and talking to you about Nona and me. And I thought it might help you get rid of your idea that you wanted to marry me."

"Oh," she said again.

He turned back to his desk, and Audrey slowly turned and went up to her room.

Morton was busy at his office for the remainder of the day, dictating letters and giving over a mass of reports, and then hurried back and forth with piles of papers, and small pocket ledgers that contained statements of Morton's affairs, arranged to be read at a glance.

"What are you going to do this evening, John?" Morton asked, idly, as he was preparing to go home.

"Going to get my flyver, and grease it, and go out for a ride," Parrish said. "I haven't been need it in a long time. Want to see if it runs."

"All right. Amuse yourself," Morton advised, as he took his departure.

Audrey had been exploring the house, after the manner of women when they're returned from a trip out of town. She had directed a transfer of the fruits from one closet to another, inspected her clothing and discarded a heap of it, ordered various cleaning operations, obscured corners, and when Morton arrived, she was sitting in the middle of his bedroom floor, his shirts strewn widely around her.

"What are you doing to my linen?" he wanted to know.

"Just looking it over," she said. "I think you'd better order some new ties and shirts. Shall I order them for you?"

"Heavens, no!" He spoke in mock concern. "Thank you just the same, but I'll order them myself. The next time you tried it, you'll find them all in awning stripes and such wide. They looked like some of Firpo's or Battling Siki's haberdashery. Poor Siki! He's dead, now."

"Who?" she asked absently, holding up a shirt before her.

"Siki," he said.

"I don't know him," she said, seriously.

Morton laughed, and turned into his bedroom.

There was a telegram from Mr. Sunshine at Morton's office next morning. "What shall I do with this chorus we put on our production or has the young lady quite please answer quick. A. Sunshine," the message read.

Morton rubbed his ear reflectively. "Take this telegram," he said to Parrish. "It's to Abe Sunshine, Seattle. Will let you know in day or two. Meantime better keep them rehearsing."

Parrish paused with his pencil unraised, waiting for further orders.

"Parrish," said Morton, "when you start any place driving a young filly, you've got to count on at least one runaway, having the dashboard kicked out, getting into the ditch once or twice, and enjoying a lot of excitement en route."

"I concur in that," agreed Parrish. "I've broken a few colts myself. Are you going to buy a filly, sir?"

Morton's eyelids quivered, but he suppressed his smile.

"I was just thinking," he said and pursued the subject no further.

Toward noon, a woman caller was announced. Morton frowned as he was told the name.

"All right—show her in," he said with something like impatience.

Rising, he greeted his visitor. She sat down. He remained standing, as to convey the thought that her call should be short.

She was the woman who had been waiting for him at the door of the building, a month or so before.

"My dear," Morton said, "I saw you coming from the station with Audrey—dear little Audrey! How is the child?"

Morton's answer was impatient. "Quite well, thank you. What did you want to talk to me about?"

She drew her chair forward.

"She doesn't care for me," she said. "She's very confidential," she said now, "how glad I am to see you! I saw you coming from the station with Audrey—dear little Audrey! How is the child?"

Morton's answer was impatient. "Quite well, thank you. What did you want to talk to me about?"

"She doesn't care for me," she said. "She's very confidential," she said now, "how glad I am to see you! I saw you coming from the station with Audrey—dear little Audrey! How is the child?"

Morton drew back, and sat down.

She dragged him closer after him.

"It's about Charles," she said. "He's been acting dreadfully, and I want to ask your advice."

"But I'm not a lawyer," he protested. "Why don't you see an attorney?"

She looked at him coyly, through lowered eyelids. "But," she said, "it's about you."

"About me? What has your husband to do with it?"

She leaned over, and tapped him on the sleeve.

"I like to see Mr. Morton, he's jealous of me!"

She leaped to her feet, with an exclamation. "Why in the name of all that's holy should he be jealous of me?"

She simpered. "Perhaps it is because I talk to you so much," she offered. "You know all us girls talk about you!"

Morton walked up and down the room, running his fingers through his hair, perplexedly. "How far has this thing gone? What does he say?"

His color smiled, with visible satisfaction.

"He says he's going to sue for divorce, on account of you!"

Morton sat down, heavily. With intent eyes he studied the woman before him.

"I think you would explain this nonsense," he said, slowly.

She drew a mirror from her handbag, and with a pencil improved the line of an eyebrow.

"I was afraid he would come in here and make an awful scene," she told him. "I wanted to warn you."

"He doesn't explain anything," he said. "What have you been doing, anyway—seeking a thrill?"

She leaned forward, and smiled at him.

"You are thrilling, you know, Mr. Morton," she confided.

"Poppycock!" he said. "Look here, Mrs. Carver, I have never seen anything of you, except when I met you at a dance, and the two or three times you've been at this office. You came about my invitation. What kind of nonsense have you been telling that husband of yours, anyway?"

The lady drew herself up.

"You can't!" said Nurse Jane. "The duck pond is fresh water and the sea-shore is salt water."

"You can buy a lot of salt at the six and seven cent store, pour it in the duck pond and then it will be as salty as the sea," said the kind rabbit gentleman. "You wait; we'll soon have our own private seashore!"

And so he did what he did. He packed bag after bag of salt into the duck pond, and when the animal boys heard about it they came rushing along and jumped in. They splashed about, making the salt mix with the water, until the duck pond was just like the ocean.

"Except that it hadn't any waves," said Billy No-Tail, the frog boy. "An ocean ought to have big waves, Uncle Wiggily!"

"That's so," barked Pepe Bow Wow. "It isn't unless the seashore, even if it is salt, unless it has waves."

"Hum! I never thought of that."

The bunny gentleman. "But it is said the bunny gentleman. "But it is waves at the seashore." He was wondering how this could be brought about when, all of a sudden, old

Mr. Mucker, the big mud turtle, rose up out of the pond where he had been crawling around on the bottom. And as he rose up his big shell cracked open and he bobbed up and down in the water this way and that so rolled up in waves on the sandy shore.

"Oh no, Mr. Mucker! You are making seashore waves!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "That's just what I want. Will you bob up and down in the duck pond for a while, to make believe it is the ocean?"

"Why, of course I will," croaked Mr. Mucker. So he bobbed up and down in the salty water and made quite good sized waves which splashed on shore and made the girl animals squeal delight as they felt their toes getting wet.

"Everything is all right now!" said Uncle Wiggily. "I have my seashore right here at home, salt water, waves and all!" Then, though it was still very hot in Woodland, everyone seemed cool on account of wading in the pond and seeing the waves splash on shore. This teaches us that make believe, or imagination goes a great way.

"If the mosquito doesn't bite a hole in the molasses' jug so all the sweet stuff runs out, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's taffy drops."

Last Minute News on Stocks and Financial Affairs

New York, July 13 (By R. P. Clark & Co.)—The market gave an excellent account of itself to-day, with a strong buying power attending the advance. Copper shares were in early demand on the publication of favorable copper metal statistics the carriers showed further evidence of accumulation, with C & G and Canadian Pacific at new high levels. Standard Oil in demand, Cast Iron Pipe, Dupont, Gen. Motors and Farmers Players among the prominent issues. General Motors continued its prominence in the motor department and sold at new high point. The oil group lagged behind the other group.

Aside from the oil companies reported in copper metal demand other business reports were equally as favorable. The week's oil production figures were of a helpful nature in promoting optimism throughout although there was some selling in this section.

To-day's market activities may have prompted larger public follow-up and at the present time the general list is giving clearer indications of predominating buying power.

New York, July 13 (By H. C. Bond Corporation's Direct Wall Street Wire)—The Wall Street Journal's stock market edition this afternoon says: Stocks engaged in a rather broad demonstration to-day, in which the high grade seasoned issues of both the leading stocks and industrials took the leading part. Despite the gains over last six weeks, buying power appeared unimpaired and increasing confidence was imparted to sentiment by the unprecedented number of new purchases of high priced stocks taken at rising rates. Standard dividend calls including N. Y. Central, C. & O. Canadian Pacific and B. & O. continued their upward climb. General Motors made a further response to current profit picture by stabilizing a new high for the shares, while new highs from the March break were made by Dupont General Electric and some others.

Metal shares were stimulated by stiffening lead prices, while U. S. Steel was at its best behavior reflected in the pig iron trade which indicated good demand has by no means run its course. Many of the users of iron are still in the buying market.

Strength in the better class rails is entirely due to the development at this time. It has seldom happened that the three main factors investment position of rails, namely traffic, labor relations and the attitude of the public has been as satisfactory.

On the financial side, no new strength came in, while U. S. Steel was at its best behavior reflected in the pig iron trade which indicated good demand has by no means run its course. Many of the users of iron are still in the buying market.

Strength in the better class rails is entirely due to the development at this time. It has seldom happened that the three main factors investment position of rails, namely traffic, labor relations and the attitude of the public has been as satisfactory.

The times are ripe for the expansion of stock capital which the rails have needed for years past and they are not going to let the opportunities slip.

Preliminary estimates in General Motors show a balance of $10,000,000 and $90,000,000 or 100 on the 5,161,500 shares of common will be shown as profits for the first half of current year, although reports speculative circles are to the effect that the figures earnings may exceed the $100,000,000 shown for the entire year of 1925.

Durant took American Safety Razor, of which he is a director, in large blocks, carrying the stock up five points to 57. He was also a large buyer of Stewart & Company, which surged 14% to 55%. Both Durant and Schwab are credited with being in the upswing in Steels and General Motors, already buying Chicago Pneumatic Tools.

Construction activity in this stock market based on current earnings which are estimated at $12 a share, compared with a $5 dividend. Considerable interest in Erie first preferred was aroused among persons on the new. Was Schwab's policy. Not content with these terms a group of the preferred holders are evidently purchasing this issue.

All money ruled 4% per cent. all day.

COUNCIL DECIDES WILLOWS POLICY

Alternative Plans to Sell or Lease in Defined Terms Are Cast Out

City Fathers Will Await Offer From All Comers With Open Mind

As anticipated the City Council last night rejected the report of its special committee on the Willows grounds proposals and left the way open to entertain other alternative offers for the sale of the grounds or for their continuation by lease.

The report of the committee was in two findings. The first was that a price of $100,000 be set on the grounds, to include quarter cash and balmers in five years at $1,000 per acre.

An alternative recommendation was that the grounds be thrown open to lease at $5,000 a year, rising to $8,000 in four years and continuing at the latter figure until the expiry of a ten-year lease, the city to pay the taxes and insurance, and the lessees to keep the buildings in a state of repair.

FIRST PROPOSAL

The first proposal of the committee that of a sale outright in the sum of $100,000, was lost. Alderman Marchant and Dewar voting in its favor. Aldermen Holmes, Harvey, Cullin and Woodward voted in the negative. Mayor Pendrey cast his vote in the affirmative, and Alderman Shanks abstained.

The second proposal, that the grounds be leased at $5,000 a year, was carried—Alderman Shanks abstaining.

The council will now wait to see if any definite offers are forthcoming before again taking up the question of the lease.

The voting showed a preponderance of the council against a sale in the terms proposed by its special committee.

FAVOUR LEASE

Aldermen Holmes, Woodward, Mara and Harvey said they favored a lease, though not in accord with the suggestion of the lease in defined terms made by the committee. Mayor Pendrey thought the terms of the lease mentioned as entirely too low, and added that the lease should be for not less than $5,000 a year in addition to the assumption of the taxes and all other charges.

The support of sale, Alderman Marchant quoted figures to show that the city spends $12,500 a year on the maintenance of the exhibition grounds and made little use of the property for which the outlay was paid.

Afterwards Dewar acquiesced in the desirability of retaining the grounds when insufficient funds could be placed to their proper development, or to the support of the present tenants.

PUBLIC PLAYGROUND

Alderman Woodward stressed the Willows as a public playground of great value which could not be adequately maintained.

Alderman Holmes spoke along the same lines, holding a lease of the property to be the only feasible course if any change were to be made.

The discussion brought out no new light on the subject, and resulted in the council's position as it was before the committee had made its report, with an open mind on the subject. In this position it will wait for offers, if any are forthcoming for the disposal of the property.

Rheumatic Pains Go Swollen Joints Vanish

Thousands of sufferers have freed themselves from the bondage of rheumatism; rid themselves of the torturing pain; reduced the swollen joints; thrown away crutches and crutches; found helplessness beings become able to work and be of use to themselves and families.

They took Rheuma-the modern enemy of rheumatism and gout.

Don't be skeptical about Rheuma. You will know in a few days after beginning the treatment that the dangerous poisons are leaving your system through the natural channels. Rheuma should please you in a day and make you hopeful of quick recovery, in a week or more money refunded.

Rheuma acts on the blood, stomach and liver, and must quickly bring long prayer for comfort to distressed sufferers or money back. Vancouver Drug Co. and druggists everywhere sell it with this guarantee.

MAYOR TO MEET GRAIN LEADERS

Mayor J. C. Pendrey is in Vancouver to-day on a special mission in connection with the elevator project mooted for Ordern Point docks. Before his departure last night His Worship stated he was meeting with most capitalists who hitherto have taken no part in the negotiations under way to discuss the possibility of a union of forces with the Panama Pacific Grain Elevator Company. "I am hopeful that there will be definite and satisfactory announcement to be made as to the elevator inside of two weeks' time," concluded the Mayor.

VICTORIA LEADS ALL CANADA WITH LOW DEATH RATE

Infant Mortality Figures Continue Lowest in the Entire Dominion

Council Favors Request For Abolition of Gorge Improvement Charges

In his monthly report to the City Council last evening Dr. Arthur G. Price, City Health Officer, reported Victoria in possession of excellent health, generally speaking. Infant mortality continues the lowest of any city in Canada and serious disease is entirely absent. Births of June totaled fifty-six, deaths thirty-seven and marriages fifty. Two infants died under the age of one year, one incapable of surviving life under any conditions, leaving the infant mortality rate at 17.2 per 1,000 births.

The council voted $100 grant to the J.B.A.A. to aid towards its expenses in connection with the N.P.A. regatta to take place on July 23-24, while local Vancouver and Port Alberni came in to take part.

The council made an important decision in agreeing to the request of agents for the Barnsley estate and other property owners on Gorge Road near the C.N.R. bridge to ask the board of local improvement to waive out all such charges on their properties. Much of the land affected by the local improvement charges in this area stands in danger of reverting to the city by reason of the double tax, it was shown.

To ease the strain of a mortgage without affecting the value of the property, the council agreed to sell the Queen's Hotel site at the northwest corner of Johnson and Store Streets to R. L. Reid for the upset price, $3,331.51. Mr. Reid wishes to protect a $30,000 mortgage on the property and thus buys out the city's right to the property acquired by the late developer.

In the absence of City Comptroller D. A. Macdonald shortly, C. Norman will act in his stead, in acting capacity, the council agreed. Alderman A. A. C. Dewar, chairman of the lands committee, was warmly applauded for the excellent showing made by that department. The chairman, who was a son of Mr. H. H. Hornal of Courtenay, until the Provincial Police took over control a few months ago, was married only a year ago.

The chairman then read a letter of resignation from Capt. French, who is shortly leaving the district. After this they proceeded with the nominations. A Campbell proposed Lee.

Mr. Lee, nominated by Mrs. L. Welsh, seconded by Mr. Brown; V. R. Morgan, proposed by Mr. Welsh, seconded by R. Mugford; A. Kohout, nominated by Mrs. Hawkins, seconded by V. Richardson. A Campbell proposed Rev. S. Lundy as auditor, seconded by J. L. French.

V. Richardson said E. Milne had so ably filled his office for many years on the Board of School Trustees that he would not care to stand against him. A. Kohout refused office, not as he did not lack of public spirit, but owing to his having too much work elsewhere.

This left Lee, Warner unopposed and he is now on the Board of School Trustees as secretary for one year, in place of Capt. French, whose office will then expire. His fellow trustees are E. Milne and R. Mugford.

The chairman called on the Rev. S. Lundy for the auditor's report which Lundy gave, and then expressed for himself and the district the greatest appreciation of the services rendered.

The financial report was read by Capt. French, also the estimates for school expenses during the coming year.

The chairman found it a fine and lucid report.

E. Milne pointed out these estimates were approximate and a lump sum had better be voted. The estimates called for $2,100.

Mrs. Raymont moved the sum should be raised as assessment this year, and the motion was carried.

Felix Norton has gone up North.

Mrs. Davie and her two sons, Lloyd and Kenneth, are staying with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Brandon.

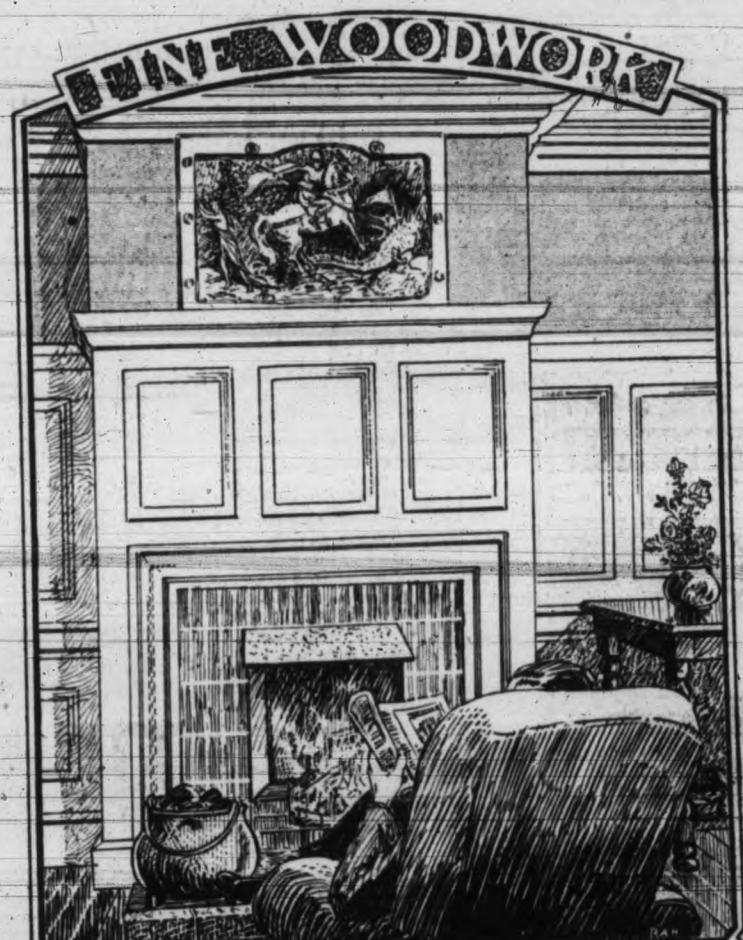

Miss E. Everall has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Lucas, and has now returned to Victoria.

Miss E. Arden of Melchison has been a visitor of Mr. and Mrs. W. Caines.

The Knox Presbyterian Church will hold a sale of work and home cooking at the Sooke Hall on Friday, July 16, at 8 o'clock. There will be a display of hand-made garments, fresh pond, cake, candies, ice cream and refreshments. There will probably be a musical programme which will be announced later.

VICTORIA BUSY WITH DRAFT OF UNION PROPOSALS

Legislative Committee to Meet Wednesday Afternoon at 4 o'clock

Legislation which Victoria representatives lay before Union of B.C. Municipalities will be considered at a special session of legislative committee at 4 p.m. on Wednesday of this week, and returned to the City Council later for approval; it was stated by Alderman Clearihue, chairman of that committee to the City Council in regular session last night. Each alderman will be given the opportunity of adding to the recommendations to be made, though so far only formal routine changes have been uncovered.

In the absence of E. W. Bradley, city clerk, the committee appointed F. M. Hunter in the acting capacity during the former's annual vacation.

The fire warden reported forty-five claims in June, with a total loss of $2,307. The department made 261 drills and conducted 321 inspections in the downtown area. No court proceedings were necessary.

Letters of thanks will be dispatched by the council to the Provincial authorities for assistance in tracing titles to city-reverted lands for auction purposes, without the usual fee; to the Real Estate Board for moral support in the auction policy; and to the Women's Institute for suggesting a method as to extending a pictorial welcome to tourists by way of street signs or otherwise.

The council agreed with the police commissioners that further strictures on traffic in the narrow part of Fort Street known as the Dardanelles would be useless.
